

Louis Dettorre was appointed the Commissioner of the Arizona Department of Real Estate on September 27, 2021 by Governor Douglas A. Ducey. Commissioner Dettorre previously served as Deputy Commissioner of the Arizona Department of Real Estate since 2016 and as Assistant Commissioner of Operations and Legislative Affairs since 2013. Before that, he was the Legislative Liaison and Public Information Officer at the Department of Real Estate from 2012 to 2013, while also serving in the same role for the Department of Financial Institutions from 2012 to 2015.

While serving as Deputy Commissioner, Dettorre managed the agency's operations including government affairs, auditing, investigations, strategic planning, accounting, and communications. He has deployed and administered a performance management program focused on continuous improvement, developed and managed the department's multi-fund budget, consistently generating agency savings, and was the designated legislative liaison to the State Legislature, proposing agency legislation, implementing programs, and serving as the point of contact for legislators and the real estate profession. He also served as a delegate to the Arizona Mexico Commission Real Estate Committee from 2015 to 2021, and now serves as the Committee's Co-chair.

Commissioner Dettorre received his BA in Communications and a Minor in Business Administration from the University of Dubuque, his MPA from Arizona State University, and a Leadership and Management certificate from the University of Pennsylvania Wharton School.

The Arizona Department of Real Estate and its dedicated staff are focused on delivering quality and timely services to the public, all Arizonans, and our over 90,000 real estate licensees, homebuilders, real estate educators, and the real estate partners we serve.

Very Respectfully,

Louis Dettorre
Commissioner
Arizona Department of Real Estate
